The Glass Eye Studio began handblowing art glass in 1978. Today, skilled artisans continue to handmake each art piece. Every Glass Eye creation has its own unique qualities. Our handblown collection includes ornaments, eggs, paperweights, perfume bottles, oil lamps and vases.

The Studio uses a variety of compounds from around the world as well as its signature ingredient—ash from the 1980 eruption of Mount St. Helens.

We are committed to creating unique designs of the highest quality, which retail well, and are a profitable addition to your store.

Punty Technique
A sure way to tell if a vessel is hand-blown is to turn it upside down and check for the "punty mark." This mark is created when a hollow-blown piece is transferred from the blowpipe to a solid steel rod to work the top detail. After the neck or lip is finished, the piece is cracked from the rod and the tell-tale punty mark is left.

Ruby/Blue Net Vases
This tasteful grouping of vases is created in a ruby/blue glass with a net pattern. Each piece is handmade using the punty technique and is then hand signed and dated.

- Round (VR) 5" H
- Medium Traditional (VM) 6" H
- Large Traditional (VL) 7" H
